

2010 GLOBAL CHURCH CONFERENCE

Who is My Neighbor?

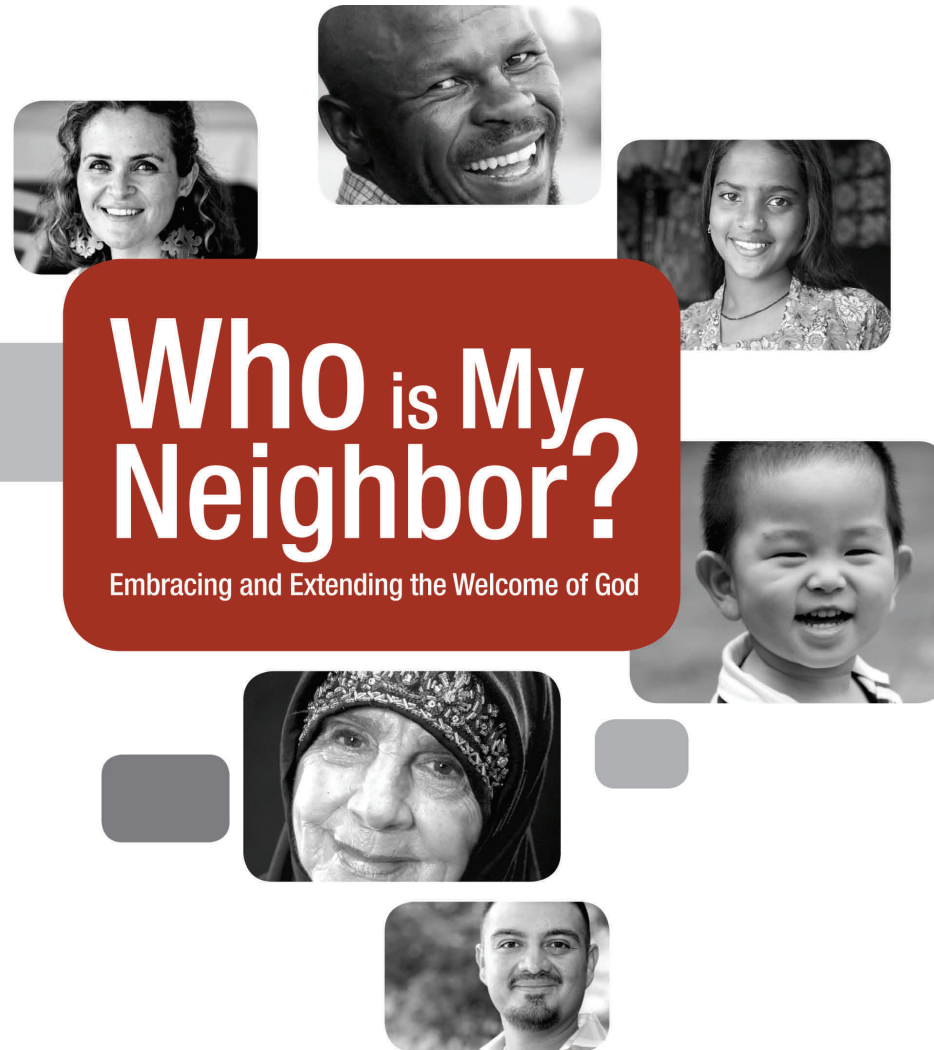

Embracing and Extending the Welcome of God

A Conference for Hearing the Church in the Majority World
First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, October 15-17, 2010

For more information and registration visit: www.fpcberkeley.org/gcc2010.asp

2010 TOPIC: We have the capacity to be connected almost instantaneously to one another across the globe through the internet, cell phone and global markets. At the same time, we find ourselves feeling more disconnected personally. There is a growing sense of isolation and loneliness. How is it that Christians in far more conflicted contexts than we, are able to extend lavish hospitality and welcome to their neighbor, the stranger, and even their enemy? The Christ, who has welcomed and extended Himself for us, calls us to do the same for our communities and our world.

2010 GLOBAL CHURCH CONFERENCE

Who is My Neighbor?

Embracing and Extending the Welcome of God

A Conference for Hearing the Church in the Majority World
First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, October 15-17, 2010

For more information and registration visit: www.fpcberkeley.org/gcc2010.asp

2010 TOPIC: We have the capacity to be connected almost instantaneously to one another across the globe through the internet, cell phone and global markets. At the same time, we find ourselves feeling more disconnected personally. There is a growing sense of isolation and loneliness. How is it that Christians in far more conflicted contexts than we, are able to extend lavish hospitality and welcome to their neighbor, the stranger, and even their enemy? The Christ, who has welcomed and extended Himself for us, calls us to do the same for our communities and our world.

The Global Church Conference

In the U.S., we have many opportunities to attend a wide variety of Christian conferences that are focused on equipping us to live out our faith in the world. First Pres Berkeley is home to the Global Church Conference (GCC), a conference born out of the desire to faithfully consider issues of faith and justice in a global context. The GCC is unique in that all the speakers are Christian brothers and sisters from places in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Middle East. We need to hear our fellow disciples from the Majority World speak into our lives so that we can be encouraged and challenged with new perspectives.

We are one body in Christ. What do these brothers and sisters believe Christians in the United States need to hear and understand in order to more faithfully serve God? This conference is an extraordinary opportunity for critical reflection, meaningful conversation, and global friendship.

2010 Topic: Who is My Neighbor? Embracing and Extending the Welcome of God

Come and engage in worship, be inspired by insightful speakers, and experience transformation.

Conference Speakers

Farsijana
Adeney-Risakotta
Indonesia

Jules Bolingo
D.R. Congo

Kira Lopez
Nicaragua

Yohanna
Katanacho
Palestine

The Global Church Conference

In the U.S., we have many opportunities to attend a wide variety of Christian conferences that are focused on equipping us to live out our faith in the world. First Pres Berkeley is home to the Global Church Conference (GCC), a conference born out of the desire to faithfully consider issues of faith and justice in a global context. The GCC is unique in that all the speakers are Christian brothers and sisters from places in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Middle East. We need to hear our fellow disciples from the Majority World speak into our lives so that we can be encouraged and challenged with new perspectives.

We are one body in Christ. What do these brothers and sisters believe Christians in the United States need to hear and understand in order to more faithfully serve God? This conference is an extraordinary opportunity for critical reflection, meaningful conversation, and global friendship.

2010 Topic: Who is My Neighbor? Embracing and Extending the Welcome of God

Come and engage in worship, be inspired by insightful speakers, and experience transformation.

Conference Speakers

Farsijana
Adeney-Risakotta
Indonesia

Jules Bolingo
D.R. Congo

Kira Lopez
Nicaragua

Yohanna
Katanacho
Palestine

Sponsoring Organizations & Partnering Churches

For more information and registration visit: www.fpcberkeley.org/gcc2010.asp

For more information and registration visit: www.fpcberkeley.org/gcc2010.asp